MISCELLANEOUS.

Distribution of the Clergy Reserves.

Toronto, Tuesday, April 1.

Attorney General Macdonald moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Clergy Reserves Act, 18 Vic. cap. 2. He explained that in that Act it was provided that the unappropriated funds on the 31st December of each year should be divided by the Receiver General among the several cities and county municipalities according to their population as shown by the last census or any subsequent census to be taken for the purpose. It had since been pressed on the attention of the Government that to take the last census as showing the population at the present time would be very unfair to many municipalities; while the expense of a new census for the purpose would swallow up a large portion of the fund. It was therefore provided by this Bill that the fund should be divided according to the number of rate-payers in each municipality, which might be assumed to be in the same proportion as population. Another change was, that instead of confining the benefits of the fund to city and county municipalities, it was provided that the village and township municipalities should share in it. By this arrangement the common school fund, especially in the younger municipalities, might be very materially assisted.

Mr. Hartman thought it would be a mistake to divide the fund amongst the municipalities, and in one respect, especially, did he think that this was a mistake. He had hoped that the Grammar School system of the country would be benefited by this fund. The Common Schools were now well supported, and the educational wants of the country now was a higher grade of schools, something between Common Schools and Universities. The fund, if divided among the townships would not be sufficient to establish Grammar Schools, but if it went to the counties, each county might establish one for every two or three townships, and the more populous counties might establish one in every township.

Hon. Mr. Spence said there was nothing in the bill to prevent the fund being applied to educational purposes, and he was satisfied there would be as much safety and propriety in leaving it in the hands of town and township municipalities as in those of county municipalities. Even if it went to the latter there was no security for the fund being appropriated to Grammar schools, as the hon. member for York desired. It would more probably be devoted to the payment of County debts.

Mr. Mackenzie expressed his fears that the people would, in the end, get very little of the fund, in any shape. He believed it would go to the land jobbers and speculators, whom this house was particularly anxious to favor. Some six or eight weeks ago an address was passed for a return, showing what amount had gone to the Church of England, how much to the Church of Scotland, how much to the Roman Catholics, and how much to the people. He thought the Government were to blame for having delayed this information so long.

The bill was then read a first time, and ordered to a second reading, on Friday next.

Horrors of the Slave Trade.

The following shocking account is from the Daily News correspondent at Rio, under date of Feb. 13:

"An American schooner, called the Mary Smith, attempted to land a cargo of 320 negroes which she had brought from the coast of Africa, but was taken prisoner by the Brazilian brig-of-war Olanda and taken into Bahia. The commander and crew are all Americans, and were, immediately after landing, ironed and locked up in the jail of Bahia. The schooner embarked 500 of the poor blacks from the coast, but they were so closely packed on board, that they were, so badly fed during the voyage, that 180 died and was thrown overboard, and of those landed at Bahia, 64 died a few hours afterward. The survivors were immediately fed and clothed, and will be well taken care of until their ultimate destination is resolved upon."

IMPORTANT IF CORRECT.—We learn says the Montreal Herald, on what we believe—and have good reasons for believing—to be excellent authority, that it is the contemplation of the British Government, as soon as the navigation opens, to station 30 regiments of the line in Canada.

PETITIONS.—We never saw so many petitions received in one day in the Canadian Legislature, as were received last Wednesday afternoon—perhaps 200. Of these 58 were read that day, all for a prohibitory liquor law.—Mackenzie's Message.

SYRACUSE, March 24, 1856.

A woman, named Ward, residing near Bridgeport, Madison County, yesterday murdered her four children, by cutting their throats with an axe. She then made an unsuccessful attempt to cut her own throat.—The cause of the act is said to be the neglect and brutality of her husband.

Dr. Smith, physician to the hospital for consumption and diseases of the chest, lately read a paper on this subject before the Medical Society of London, and showed that minute doses of morphia, often repeated, were very efficacious in chest diseases. The dose of morphia, referred to by Dr. Smith was from 1-64th to 1-24th of a grain for an infant or young child, and from 1-20th to 1-12th of a grain for an adult, repeated from three to six times in the twenty-four hours.

On Thursday (St. Valentine's Day) the number of letters posted at the several metropolitan and provincial post offices were as follows:—Passed through the General Post, St. Martin-le-Grand, 618,000; passed through the District Office, St. Martin-le-Grand, 279,000—total 897,000. Such a large number for this has never before passed through the Post Office in London. Many of the letter carriers had not completed their deliveries until 11 o'clock at night.

Among the notices of motion laid on the table of the House of Assembly on Monday, we observe one by Mr. Cameron, for a bill, for better securing the Independence of the Legislative Assembly, the object of which is, as we understand, to oblige members of the House accepting temporary official employment, to vacate their seats and return to their constituents for re-election.

The late L. B. Leavett, a wealthy citizen of Elizton, Kentucky, by will provided for the emancipation of several of his slaves, and disposed of the entire residue of his large estate, said to be worth at least $200,000, to three or four of them, who by the provisions of the will are to be removed to the city of New York as soon as practicable.

THE LITTLE BONNET.

There is a little bonnet,
I see it about town,
With a little feather on it,
That tosses up and down.

Beneath this little bonnet
Are two such jet black eyes—
Oh! that they could be seen
I shall waste myself in sighs!

And what wonder!—see it moving
Down the crowded street,
The little feather bowing o'er it,
Nodding to the fairy feet.

Proudly goes the little bonnet,
Proudly trip the little feet,
And laughing the eyes beam out,
On everything they meet.

Not clear the way false curls,
With your faded braid or tress!
Not clear the way, ye snickers,
Of the white nose of your sticks.

Hot smokers of Havana,
Stop your puffing ere that eye,
Put a stopper on your fire,
With its liquid brilliancy.

Proudly goes the little bonnet,
Proudly steps the little feet,
And laughing the eyes beam out,
On everything they meet.

Knicker-Knacks.

EFFECT OF THE WAR.—Woman: "A three farthen candle, if you please" Chandler: "They're a penny a piece now" Woman: "Why, how's that?" Chandler: "Is on account of the Russian war." Woman: "Don't mean to tell me they're fightin' by candle light."

LEAP YEAR.—In olden time unmarried women used to wear a scarlet petticoat during leap year. If one showed the end of this garment to any man, he was bound to marry her, but could buy himself off by presenting the lady with a new gown—a cheap alternative.

Decency is a matter of latitude. In Turkey a man with tight pants on is considered so great a vulgarian that he is not tolerated in respectable society. To spit in the presence of an Arab is to make the acquaintance of his cheese-knife. In Russia that man is considered low who refuses a warm breakfast consisting of candles, &c. In this country, vulgar people are such as keep good hours, and live within their income. Queer institution, that human family.

There has been a dreadful death in the matrimonial atmosphere in this place for months past. The milk of human kindness is frozen. Sweet maidens, ripe to the core, languish in the ever to be dreaded condition of single cussedness, clinging to the old parent stem. Bachelors freeze in uncomfortable sheets, sip cold coffee, chew leathery beef-steak. It is getting perfectly execrable, and Leap Year too! Tut, tut, girls.

Curious.—It is estimated that the clergy cost in the United States $6,000,000 per year; the criminals $12,000,000; the dogs $10,000,000; and the lawyers $35,000,000. According to this statement, friend Jonathan pays twice as much for his dogs and six times as much for his lawyers, as he does for his clergy.

A club of unmarried men recently gave a ball, and called themselves "The Merry Bachelors." Merry bachelors! Oh, please! don't talk nonsense! You might as well say a skeleton is merry, because it grins! It won't do.

Rogers said a friend of his in Portland, place, London, had a wife who inflicted upon him every season two or three immense evening parties. At one of these parties he was standing in a very storm condition, leaning against the chimney-piece, when a gentleman coming up to him, said, "Sir, as neither of us is acquainted with any of the people here, I think we would best go home."

Says the lovely Julia to the bewitching Fanny, "Why is a new baby like a cow's tail?" Fanny blushed as she answered, "Because it was never seen before!"

A German writer says that the people of the United States burst more steamboats and chew more tobacco than any other five nations on the globe.

"I say," said a young lady, "according to one of the funny papers, that some look-alikes and printers advertise blank declarations for sale. I wish I could get one." "Why?" asked the mother. "Because, Mr. J. B. is too modest to ask me to leave him, and perhaps, if I would fill a blank declaration with the question, he would sign it." "Oh, stop your nonsense Annie," said her mother as she left the room.

"How do you like the character of St. Paul?" asked a boarder of a landlady of a country tavern, one day, during a conversation about the old Saints and Apostles. "Ah, he was a good, clever old soul, I know, for he once said, you know, that we must eat what is set before us, and ask no questions for conscience sake. I always thought I should like him for a boarder." The young man went off to soliloquize with himself upon the absence of good deserts, want of hot bath, but the abundance of tea too weak to get out of the tea-pot, and butter strong enough to run away with the plate.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, 1856.

The Tribune is now in the midst of its fifteenth year; Vol. XV of its weekly issue commenced on the first of September last. The American public need not now be acquainted with its character or claims to consideration. With but a subordinate regard for prudence, policy or popularity, it has aimed to stand for Righteousness, Truth, for Humanity, against forbidden Iniquity, Fraud and Oppression. There is not a slave-trader on this Continent, though he may never read anything but his bills of sale and notes payable, who does not know and hate the Tribune; there is not an extensive fabricator of drugged and poisonous Liquors who does not consider it a very dangerous and immoral paper, and wonder why its circulation is tolerated in a commercial, cotton-buying city like New York.

The Newark Mercury once forcibly remarked that it had never known a hard gripping, serving avaricious employer, who was not hostile to the Tribune, nor one eminently generous and kindly who did not like it. Prompt and plain spoken in its denunciations of iniquity and abuses of power, while claiming no exemption from human fallibility, it may have done temporary injustice to individuals, but it has never been unfaithful to Principle, nor deaf to the cries of the wronged and suffering. In its columns the advocates of novel and unpopular theories contemplating the melioration of human woes, especially those of the voiceless and down-trodden have ever found audience and hospitality; while it has ardently resisted and will persistently combat every attempt to proscriber and degrade any class because of diversities of Nativity, Creed or Color.

In defiance of calumnies the most atrocious, and of hostilities the most deadly and unflinching, the Tribune has grown steadily in public appreciation from the day of its origin. Its means of serving the public have been augmented in proportion. Instead of a single editor with one or two assistants, its organization now comprises a numerous body of writers, each fitted by special accomplishment and experience for the particular line of discussion to which his pen is devoted; the daily amount of reading matter given more than quadruples that of its earliest issues; a staff of valued correspondents encircles the globe, transmitting early and intelligent narrations of whatever is most worthy of attention; while Politics, Legislation, Literature, Art, History—in short whatever affects the social well-being of mankind, Potentia Theology alone excepted—finds here the freest and most searching discussion.

Attached by profound conviction to the beneficent policy of industrial development & internal intercommunication whose most conspicuous champion through the last Half-Century was HENRY CLAY—imbued, moreover with that spirit of forbearance toward our weaker neighbors and toward the much wronged Aborigines of this Continent and of peace with all which will hallow the name of Whig, the Tribune, while surrendering no jot of its proper independence, co-operated earnestly and ardently with the Whig party so long as its vitality was preserved. When in 1850-2 an attempt was made to interpolate slave-hunting into its creed, we sternly resisted that imposition when at the close of the last Presidential canvass, it was seen that a large portion of the Whigs preferred to defeat their own party, rather than allow its Anti-Slavery wing to share its triumph, even under a conservative Chief on a Pro-Slavery platform, we knew and proclaimed that the Whig party was no more. Subsequent events, including the rise and culmination of the Know-Nothing conspiracy, and the speedy absorption therein of the whole force of Pro-Slavery Whigism, only confirmed our anticipations. With no sickly lamentations, therefore for the inevitable bygone, but with hope, and joy, and sympathy, and words of cheer, have we hailed the beginning and watched the progress of that mighty REPUBLICAN movement which, impelled by the perils of the Missouri Compact, and stimulated by the astounding outrages whereof the rights of the Free Settlers of Kansas have been the victims, by the repeated and utter violation of their elections by an armed mob collected by conspiracy and lured suddenly upon them from the border counties of the neighboring Slave State, is destined to sweep away the landmarks of old party feuds, and unite the true hearts and strong arms of the free-souled in one mighty effort to confine the scourge and scandal of our country within the limits of the States which unwisely uphold it. To the success of this effort the energies of the Tribune will be steadily devoted; while the TEMPERANCE REFORM, including the entire suppression of the Traffic in Intoxicating Beverages, will find in it, as hitherto, an earnest and unflinching champion.

Commencing as a daily folio sheet of moderate size, and with scarcely a shadow of patronage, the Tribune is now issued in quarto form DAILY (three distinct editions), SEMI-WEEKLY and WEEKLY, on a sheet 44 by 34 inches, eight ample pages of six columns each. Its circulation has steadily grown from nothing to the following aggregates:

Daily issues (evening and morning) 29,500 copies.
Weekly.....14,176 " "
Semi-weekly.....12,500 " "
California edition.....6,000 "

Total.....139,176 copies.

We believe no other newspaper in the world has a subscription list over half so large as this; and no periodical of any sort can rival it. And while its extreme cheapness rendering an increase of paying readers only an indirect pecuniary advantage to us, has doubtless largely swelled its subscription list, it would be absurdity not to perceive in this unprecedented patronage some evidence of public approval and esteem.

TERMS.

The Tribune employs no traveling agents, and sends out no papers on trust. It is not stopped when the term paid for expires, and the subscriber does not choose further to pay for it, we resort to an legal process to compel him. On the Weekly, we mean to stop every paper on the expiration of the advance payment, awaiting a fresh remittance from the subscriber. If none comes, the account is closed. We pay no local agents; wish no money paid; any when the paper cannot trust him to mail or otherwise send it to us; once mailed, its safety is at our risk, (and a serious risk it often proves); but are grateful to every one who deems it a good work to obtain and forward the names and money of his friends and neighbors. Our terms invariably are—

DAILY TRIBUNE, $6 per annum; SEMI-WEEKLY, $3; two copies for $5; five for $11 25.

WEEKLY, $3; three copies for $5; five copies for $8; ten copies for $12; twenty copies to one address for $20; larger clubs, $1 each subscriber.

Additions may at all times be made to a club at the price paid by those already in it. GREELEY & McELRATH,
No 154 Nassau-st., New York.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856 OF THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

Weekly Edition between $9,000 and $90,000.

In issuing this Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of Thirty-four years. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle which shall not only amuse, but also instruct and improve those who may read it. To accomplish this object the best are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character prepared, when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly-News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has facilities which delight in the humorous and the lively, the imaginative and poetical. These facilities also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these heaven-imprinted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to Fiction, Poetry and Humor.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers of the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. Southworth, author of "The Deserter's Wife," "Miriam" &c., in our first paper for January next.

Engravings illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous though refined character, are also freely given.

Prospectus of the "Protestant," A NEW WEEKLY FAMILY JOURNAL.

The want of a thoroughly sound Protestant paper is deeply felt by a large proportion of the Protestant population of Canada East—a paper of a distinctive character in its principles, and independent of those extraneous considerations which so often cloud the views of the Commercial and Scientific Journals. The former cannot easily, in a community like that of Canada, assume that independent tone which has been the boast of the British Liberator—the latter, as the organs of certain sectional interests, are in their very nature weak and inefficient, and while both are, in their respective positions, faithfully discharging their duties of Commerce, Party or Religion, it cannot be denied that the interests of the Protestant population, in view of the peculiar aspect of the situation, and with an honest desire to awaken a more united course of action amongst our Protestant population, we have started a Weekly Journal, devoted to the grand old cause of the Protestant faith, and the name of the Paper will be THE PROTESTANT.

In assuming this name in its plain and comprehensive meaning, our effort will be to preserve a purely Catholic character, unimpaired by the influence of Party feeling, and to stand for the great principles which are at once the stability and glory of the Reformed Church in its various branches. An uncompromising antagonism to the Roman Catholicism, in its political and social aspects, will be our constant policy, and we will be commonly kept up, and its proceedings narrowly observed; while upholders of Romanism and Infidelity, and those who are ready to sacrifice the rights of the Protestant population, will find in it a powerful and unflinching champion.

It is our policy to be "Protestant" in the full and true sense of the word, while at the same time, in our editorial articles, we will be carefully avoided, and our language will be strictly confined to the principles of the Reformed Church, and we will be commonly kept up, and its proceedings narrowly observed; while upholders of Romanism and Infidelity, and those who are ready to sacrifice the rights of the Protestant population, will find in it a powerful and unflinching champion.

Our general plan of action, we shall give to the public generally, while our selection will be of that character which we truly, and with an honest desire to awaken a more united course of action amongst our Protestant population, we have started a Weekly Journal, devoted to the grand old cause of the Protestant faith, and the name of the Paper will be THE PROTESTANT.

UNITED STATES TYPE FOUNDRY,
Nos. 29, 31 and 33, Beilman-st., New York.

The undersigned beg to inform the trade that they have this day issued, their new QUARTY SPECIMENS, and that it is now ready for delivery to their old patrons, as well as to all who patronize their Foundry. In it will be found a new series of faces, from Pearl to Pica, surpassing if possible, their celebrated series of Scotch cut faces.

The Fancy Type department exhibits an unsurpassable variety of beautiful styles, selected from France, Germany and England.

The Scripts and Bordering are now for the first time presented to the printing public, and are the production of the best American and European artists.

An entire new series of German faces both for newspaper and job printing of a very superior style, is now nearly completed and ready for sale.

The metal from which the type is made will be found peculiarly adapted to the severe usage of machine press printing.

They beg to return thanks for past favors, and to solicit a continuance. Their well known liberal manner of doing business for the past thirty years, is a guarantee to new patrons of their disposition and ability not to allow themselves to be surpassed for fair dealing, whether orders are by letters or otherwise.

N. B.—Proprietors of newspapers are requested to insert the above three times, provided they trade out three times the amount of their respective bills in materials of our manufacture and forward us one copy of the paper containing the advertisement.

THE NEW YORK PEOPLE'S ORGAN, A FAMILY JOURNAL.

Published weekly on FINE PAPER IN LARGE QUANTITIES. At 118 Nassau Street, New York.

This Journal, now in its fourteenth year, was the first to espouse the cause of Washington, when it made its advent in this city, and appeared as a little cloud no bigger than a man's hand. The first to herald to the world the principles of the noble Order of the Sons of Temperance, the glorious result of the previous movements, and the instrumentality by which the TEMPERANCE cause is to be put down. Always keeping pace with the spirit of the times, the organ was early found amongst the advocates of prohibition, and it shall ever labor in its great vocation, until the traffic in strong drink is prohibited by law.

As a Family Journal, it has ever held a high position. Nothing shall find place in its columns but what is pure, and in its personal the nicest sense of propriety will never be alluded to.

Large Premiums will be given annually to secure Tales of interest and literary merit, such as have already secured for the Organ its high reputation—and in the Ladies' Department something will always be found to interest and please. The Children and Youth may be assured that they will not be forgotten; their interest lie near our hearts, and it is our most pleasing task to encourage and instruct them.

Our Political Selections shall ever be of the choicest kind; and the number and talent of our Editorial Corps, will be sufficient guarantee for the Piquancy, Brilliance and Truthfulness of all we publish. A new feature has lately been introduced—Our Portrait Gallery—in which we will present monthly or more frequently, faithful likenesses, engraved on wood in the highest style of art, of the prominent friends of our cause, or the prominent men of our country and our time. Nothing shall be wanting that we can accomplish to make the Organ a welcome Visitor and valuable Companion.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:—One Dollar per annum, payable in advance. Postmasters and others acting as agents in procuring subscribers, are authorized to retain 10 per cent, as their commission.
